

UTR1.188 - THE E POLLARD PRIZE IN ECONOMIC HISTORY

Background:-

- A. While at Flinders University Professor Jonathan Pincus established a prize for the best student in Economic History called 'The E. Pollard Prize in Economic History'.
- B. As the Discipline of Economic History was abolished at Flinders University, Dr Ralph Shlomowitz of Flinders arranged to pay the residual capital sum of $2,790.49 to the University of Adelaide. The funds were placed in the University's Endowment Fund and are now used for a similar prize at the University of Adelaide.
- C. The purpose of the prize is to encourage undergraduate students to excellence in economic history.
- D. In 2018, the donor donated further funds to endow the prize in perpetuity.
- E. The University accepted the donations upon the trusts specified and the donations therefore became the capital subject to those trusts ('capital sum').
- F. This is an endowed prize with the capital sum invested in the University's Endowment Fund and the income distribution each year used to fund the prize.

Name of the Fund

1. The capital sum, all income arising from the capital sum, and any accumulations and additions thereto together form a fund called 'The E Pollard Prize in Economic History' ('fund').

Investment of the Fund

2. The fund is to be amalgamated for the purposes of investment, and held in a common fund, and the net income earned by the common fund shall be credited, rateably, to the funds so amalgamated and thereafter distributed according to the trusts specified by the donor.

Rules

1. The prize shall be known as the 'E. Pollard Prize in Economic History'.
2. The annual value shall be $500, or such other amount as the University shall from time to time determine provided that the value of the prize does not exceed the annual distribution of interest available from the Endowment Fund.
3. The prize shall be awarded to the student attaining the best result in Global Economic History, providing the Head of School considers the candidate to be of sufficient merit.
4. Where two or more candidates are of equal merit, the prize shall be shared equally.
5. The University may vary the rules from time to time in a manner consistent with the University's legal obligations and policies.
